Editors suggestion: Share your copy with your local Library or Historical Society, if they don't receive it. You are welcome to make a copy of the paper—This is a Not For Profit paper to help gather family information—the more circulation the better. At this time, Jan 1997 forward, it is not copyrighted by me...

HAPPY HOLIDAYS! By the time you receive this issue, you will probably be recovering from that 'huge' dinner you had for Thanksgiving or resting from the 'mad' Thanksgiving weekend sales for Christmas. Where did this year go?

Here we are on the last issue of the year. It seems we just began. We're still learning with each issue. I am finding new and (sometimes frustratingly) different tasks my computer can do - besides erase my work..... I don't know now how I ever worked without one. My typewriter is gathering dust and I resent having to plug it in, type up a form for our business customers or resale certificate for our wholesalers. My bottle of whiteout is drying up in it's little container for lack of use.

Our Holiday Wish to you is for everyone to gain at least two new relatives before the year ends. We hope your searches are successful ones and that it will bring you closer than ever to your family, immediate and passed on. Enjoy the Holidays and share your research with family and distant relatives. Read in this issue part of a letter to my sister in law and "be patient" for answers to your letters, sometimes you get lucky.

Let me also apologize for this late issue. We came back from Salt Lake late Monday night to find my husband had been sick all week and I also had Thanksgiving dinner preparations to do. Hopefully you were too busy this weekend to notice the newsletter wasn't there. Included in this issue is the last part of the 1836 Court Records of Isaac Bunnell begun in last issue from Charlotte Stewart, a few obituaries, more Direct Lines and some research from the November '98 trip to Salt Lake City. The last three pages contain subscribers addresses and e-mail addresses if you wish to remove that part from the newsletter.

ATTENTION! 1999 Newsletter Publishing Donation: $ 12.00 due by Jan 15 to insure uninterrupted subscription. Make all checks payable to Carole Bonnell - PO Box 4282 - Spanaway, WA 98387. Thanks to those of you who have already renewed for 1999. First issue for 1999 will be mailed Feb. 25.

INDEX to Information received: Exchanging Information:

As I receive subscriptions, there are also letters or queries on different lines. As I find the same names, with the help of Teri Bonnell, sister-in-law, and good friend, who has offered to help me, we will try to alert others tracing the same names in the line and urge them to contact each other for exchanging information. Send in information you want shared or printed.

Research Gathered, INDEX; in each issue, so you can contact the newsletter, or the computer of the information. I would like to encourage subscribers to contact each other and share information. There is an enormous pile of gathered information in our files that did us little or no good, but may be a major breakthrough for someone else.

Sharing Research Information: We all have research we have collected over the years that didn't help us but may help others in their research. Claude Bunnell has a very large data base full of Bunnells of every spelling that he has collected over the years and has used Proven Sources, such as Birth, Death and Marriage, etc. He has generously offered to answer queries and share his information. He asks that, if you would, send him proven sources you have collected of Birth, Death, Marriage, etc. to add to his research for sharing with the rest of us. Send queries to me. I will print them in the newsletter and forward them to him, if you haven't already. He will send you (and me) a copy of his answer. But....please, the query is for all of us to try to answer and add to if we can. If I receive the answer in time, I'll print it with the query.

Corrections: August issue 1998 Vol 12, # 3, page 50 - Wm Austin says error in line 4 of letter from Richard B. Bunnell. "Nathaniel Bu(o)nnell was the great uncle of Solomon Bunnell (1), not his brother. Nathaniel was the younger son of the immigrant William, while Solomon was William's great grandson." FYI: The material Richard sent in on the Intermarriages of Overfields & Bunnells, Harriet Adelia Overfield and Albert Funnell, William Overfield's Family Record, and Mrs. Rebecca Keeler Bunnell - Davis - Teacher, were written by Mary Harriet (Overfield) (France) Rice. She was born in 1837 and died in 1925. For many years she was the official historian of the Bunnell/Overfield Reunion of Wyoming County, PA."

"Her manuscript Overfield History was typed for the Troy Historical Society of Troy, OH, and for my own files. I enclose copies of the title pages and preface added by the Troy Society, as well as copies of the pages from which the above articles were taken. Note that I have included the second page of the article Overfield and Albert Bunnell which concludes the article."

"Through the generosity of Marian Biles, Green, NY, I was able to acquire a photocopy Rice compiled for the Bunnell Reunion I enclose a copy of the article she composed and read at the first Bunnell reunion in 1905 on the Intermarriages of the Bunnells and Overfields. It goes on into the third generation. I thought you might like to see her beautiful handwriting." (it is a very beautiful, readable handwriting and will be in the next issue, editor)

47. Query Letter from William Austin

November 2, 1998

Letter to Carols from William R. Austin, past editor of Newsletter

Here is a puzzle for your readers. Perhaps someone can throw more light on it. If this suggestion turns out to be right, it changes several generations of the Bonnell line for quite a few people:

— In working up my material for the genealogy of William Bunnell's first five generations of descendants, I came to DAVID ELIAS BONNELL CB300147, son of David and Hannah (Thompson) Bonnell. In this case, as in all the others, my approach is to gather together every reference I can find. For David Elias that added up to some 30 or so references.

As I studied these, I noticed that every record made in his lifetime referred to him as David Bonnel or Bonnell, sometimes even Bunnell, but not once as David Elias Bonnell. This David had a son Elias, but it does not appear that he ever used Elias as part of his own name.

The earliest record I have that shows him as David Elias was sent to me in 1962 by Iva Bunnell Adams, Midway, UT, his great great granddaughter. She based her information on family records and extensive research done by her aunt Rosetta (Bunnell) Halliday (1854-1921), with the help of professional genealogists.

Her Family Group Sheet for David Elias lists her sources in a code which I haven't been able to break. Can anyone explain these references and/or obtain copies of them for me?:

Family Records F UT M(or 11)38

F UtM 2b 43 Vol 1 p 162

N.J. Pub. B Vol 5 p 9 N.J. M.

2b N.J. 1 vol 37, p 385

Research in New Jersey

In any case, David's name has been placed in the records as David Elias, and it has been repeated that way many times, including several references to him that I made myself in the Bunnell/Bonnell Newsletter. See Vol. III, No. 2 p. 7, and vol. VIII, No. 3, p. 37.

Middle names are very rare at this period of our history. In fact, this is the only instance of a middle name in this family in the first five generations. There were a very few middle names in the next generation.

Unless some more definitive source turns up, I plan to drop Elias from this David's name in my work.

Then, as I proceeded, a more significant question came up. Based on David's gravestone in the Hilltop Cemetery, Mendham, NJ, which says he died at age 60 on 27 August 1800, his birthdate has been calculated as about 1739/40, and it usually appears that way. The one source that did not work backwards from death date to birth date was American Families of Historic Lineage - Long Island Edition, (updated, but probably published in the 1920's). This lists the birth of David Bonnell, son of David and Hannah (Thompson) Bonnell as "about 1848". Hannah died the following year. This account has no further reference to David, Jr., and no source is given for the information.

Then I remembered another David Bonnell CB300191, son of Isaac, born 24 February 1739 in Elizabethtown, NJ. This comes from the Bible record listing all of Isaac's children. See Newsletter Vol. V, No. 1, p. 6.1 can't find any other mention of this David. Certainly he could have died in infancy, but I wonder if maybe it was the other David, born about 1748, who died young, and this David, son of Isaac, who married Temperance Wade and ultimately died in Mendham in 1800.

There are too many pieces of this puzzle missing, but I find no contemporary record which makes one identification more likely than the other. I would be glad to correspond with anyone who wishes to dig deeper into this matter. All of the Descendants of David and Temperance (Wade) Bonnell would have a different lineage:

William Bunnell	Instead of	William Bunnell
Nathaniel Bonnell		Nathaniel Bonnell
Nathaniel Bonnell		Joseph Bonnell
Isaac Bonnell		David Bonnell

Carole, if you can find room for all that in the Newsletter, it might stir up some helpful discussion. Right now I am leaning to the change but am without more information. Sincerely, Bill, William RJ Austin

Part of a Letter to June (Pierce) Guthrie Dec 23,1994

Dear Julie;

Today I received a letter you mailed to Philip J (James) Garn at 1627 Emerson Ave. in Salt Lake City. That is my father, he died at age 83 in 1981. I am Philip C (Graham—like in Washington) Garn. The pedigree Charts you found in the LDS Gen. Lib. with Dad's name on them must have been old ones. etc. etc.

I am amazed your letter reached me. It was mailed to my parents home at 1627 Emerson. The mail carrier who delivers that route has been there since dirt was young. He knew I lived in Arizona (I moved here in 1983), but he also knew that I owned a home just two streets away at 1666 Browning Ave. in Salt Lake City (he has forwarded Dad's mail to me at that address for some time after his death.) what he didn't know was that I became tired of being an absentee landlord and sold that house two years ago. Anyway, he forwarded your letter to me at my old address.

Even though that house is just two residential streets from my parent's home, and it only takes two minutes to walk from one to the other, the mail is on a different route and comes out of a different post office sub-station. Your letter went back into the black hole of the postal system and was delivered to the people who bought my old home. They recognized my name and knew I grew up in that neighborhood, so it wasn't hard for them to find someone who knew me. Also, the realtor they bought my house through was a personal friend so they got his address and mailed your letter to him. That friend put your letter in a new envelope and mailed it to me here in Arizona. Ahhh, if it were only that simple! I was traveling for over a month so I had the Tempe post office forward my mail to me c/o another friend in California where I would receive it to pay bills and take care of business matters. Off your letter went to California, but it missed me there and was sent back to Arizona where I received it today. Simple huh?

I wish you luck in your research, at least as much luck as your letter had in reaching me.

Sincerely, Phil G Gam

VERMONT LEGISLATURE HONORS ATTORNEY BUNNELL

By Karen Harrington (sent in by Clifton C Cilley)

The Vermont Legislature honored Vickie Bunnell on March 12 by adopting a resolution in her memory. The joint Senate and House of Representatives resolution was introduced by Canaan Rep. William Johnson, Guildhall Rep. Janice Peaslee, and Northfield Rep. Alan Weiss.

The resolution notes that Ms. Bunnell spent her childhood in Canaan and attended Canaan schools, and that she received her law degree with honors from the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, WA, before returning home to work with Attorney Phil Waystack in Colebrook. (NH)

"She hung out her own shingle in Colebrook, quietly establishing a practice dedicated to cases involving child custody, adoption, family abuse, sexual abuse, and victim's rights." The resolution reads, and goes on to note that Ms. Bunnell was appointed as the first woman associate judge to the Colebrook District Court by then Governor Steve Menill.

The resolution calls the loss of Ms. Bunnell "immeasurable", and extends the General Assembly's condolences to her family. The Secretary of State was directed to send a copy of the resolution to her parents^ Earl & Irene (Roberts) Bunnell of Canaan. March 25, 1998-News & Seminal, Colebrook, NH

The New National Enquirer - Nov. 24,1998 -from Teri Bonnell

Poor 1970's rocker of the group 'America' is said to have looked like he was trampled by a "Horse With No Name" when his wife found out he was having an affair and pushed him down a flight of stairs in a bloody divorce brawl. Dewey Bunnell, had eight stitches to close up the gash in his head. His wife Vivian was arrested and the couple are headed for divorce court. Vivian, his wife of 26 years, said the marriage was ending. The band "America" is having its first hit single in 16 years. Other hits were: "Ventura Highway", and "Sister Golden Hair" and " From a Moving Train."

SALT LAKE CITY—Information Gathered Nov 16-23, 1998

My sister in law, Julie (Pierce) Guthrie and I went to Salt Lake, leaving on a stormy Monday Nov. 16, from Sea-Tac Airport (Ten couldn't make this trip) We spent a great week there in beautiful weather (though we saw it only on the way to and from the Library.) The trip on the plane home was quite an experience. We left SLC with 40 miles per hour winds making the plane rock and roll half the way- On the way over Sea-Tac airport (Seattle Tacoma) my sister in law closed the window so she couldn't watch the plane shift and pitch as the wings seemed to flop up and down. We were delayed in landing due to 40 mile per hour winds here, also. We circled the airport and I was certain the plane was going to roll completely over. The wings looked as though they were going to hit the landing pavement as it pitched back and forth a very short distance from the ground! If you've ever been to an IMAX film of the Grand Canyon or at one of the Star Wars films in Las Vegas, with the seats moving as the film moved, you know what I'm talking about- I hate to fly, though I do a bit of it. And in my mind I know it is one of the fastest and safest ways to travel, but my body just won't listen. I get motion sick watching'a film of movement.

We were told the ground crew couldn't let us land for 15 more minutes after approaching Sea-Tac Airport. So we 'churned away' in the air above until we got the okay to land. Everyone got off the plane a bit sick to our stomachs from the turbulent movement of the plane and the anxiety of what could have happened. We were told that just before we came in, the power had gone out in the airport and it had been closed down. It was closed again shortly after we landed.

All Our trips to Salt Lake have always been memorable; One trip we took in August had temperatures of 105 degrees in Salt Lake. One plane's tires melted into the pavement on the runway. Another trip in January found us in five feet of snow. We were kept up many nights by the "beeping" sound of backhoes and dump trucks working all night hauling away the snow from the city. In October 1996 we flew into Sea-Tac and were stalled off, finally landed under 'hush-hush' apprehension. We were ushered from the luggage and ground transportation to the second floor. We waited for Larry and ^Bob, mine and Teri's husbands to pick us up for two hours before security finally told us that a Van had been parked outside, the driver running from it and a bomb threat made to the airport. All ground transportation were stopped on the highway, half a mile from the airport.

Our poor husbands had to walk to the airport and carry our luggage (mine weighing a ton, full of newly purchased genealogy books) back to the Van half a mile back. The bomb was a hoax. I would say, we have the darndest luck, but a friend (who was in an RV park, lying on the floor of their motorhome when a gang came though shooting everything in sight) would say, "No. You have Good Luck, nothing happened to you." What a good outlook. And true, we have never been hurt. It has gotten to be a joke to see what will happen during or after each trip.

I also would like to apologize for the late issue. I forgot we would be in the middle of Thanksgiving preparations when I got back from Salt Lake. I came back to find my husband had been sick in bed with the flu and stomach infection all the time I was gone. (He is getting better). Poor guy. Ten couldn't make this trip, and missed all the excitement of the flight.

Below is some of information gathered on this last trip. There will be more next issue. I hope it helps some of you. Also included are some internet addresses for research. If you haven't experienced the internet or don't have a computer, now is the time to consider it. The prices of computers have dropped in the past year. The amount of research on the internet compared to a year ago has grown to enormous proportions. There is something for just about any researcher, no matter how green or experienced you are. And please don't hesitate to jump on a computer. You can even rent one at an Office store or borrow one to surf the net at a public library just to 'surf the Internet'. I learned to use my computer doing genealogy. Now I can't live without it for my business and personal letters, invoicing, check register, mortgage programs, and especially genealogy.

There are also so many genealogy programs to purchase now it makes the choice harder than it ever was a few years ago. Each offers either more power, more speed, more categories or more space for notes and sources. Some are complicated and some are very easy. Most genealogy programs have a trial period, if you don't like it, send it back and try another. Be sure to read the guarantee before you purchase! These programs organize your work so much better than paper files.

I use my Microsoft Word to type up all the information I find in libraries, I can insert it into different Surnames and just go back and forth inserting information. That's something you can't do with a typewriter. You can type up one file, copy all or part, and print it into another file with a couple of clicks. Edit it, make it bigger, smaller, do some tricks with the many options on the toolbar. I, too, was one of the dinosaurs when it came to computers. I took some night classes at the vocational school - and learned very little. You have to take a day class that is longer than I wish to give to this. Our local High School offered what they called 'community service' classes, formerly only offered to staff and the transportation dept at the district. They were finally offered them to the community (who were paying for them), so it was only fair! They were from $2.00 to $25.00 for short or long courses. I learned more there than all the night classes put together -and for less money. Check into your local school district. They taught from scratch, as though you DIDN'T know how to turn one on! Most Vocational School night courses assume you have a computer and want to learn more. Most of the people in our class, (17 of 20) didn't know what the night class instructor was talking about. You are not just learning how to use a new 'tool' but also a 'new language'! Computer stores also offer classes.

So, take a deep breath and jump in! The class I recently took in Salt Lake was filled with people from 40 to 80 yr olds. I was very surprised how knowledgeable these older people were with the computers and internet.

Also, don't be afraid to try out the computers at the Family History Centers at the LDS libraries. I know many of you hesitate, thinking you have to know something about a computer. You don't have to know a thing! You can't mess them up and they tell you exactly what keys to push and when. It is very easy and fast to look up the library catalog, IGI or Personal Ancestral File Pedigree charts. But, beware: Always prove yourself whatever you extract from these pedigree charts, they are not always accurate, although they will give you some clues to search by. Enough chatter, onto the research!

An Illustrated History of Klickitat, Yakima and Kittitas Counties - with an outline of the Early History of the State of Washington, book # 979.75D38 - 1904 Interstate Publishing Co.,

George M. Bunnell, a sheep man and a partner in the firm of Phillips, Aldrich & Bunnell, residing at Goldendale, in Klickitat County, Washington, was born in Clackamas County, Oregon, Nov. 13, 1864. Charles B. Bunnell, his father, a native of Illinois, crossed the Plains in 1851-2, and settled in Clackamas County, Oregon, there taking up land. He still resides on his ranch. (1904). He is of Scotch parentage, and his wife, Louise (Crow) Bunnell, was a native of Missouri. In 1849, when a small child, she came across the Plains with her parents, and settled in Oregon, where she died in the year 1873.

George M grew to young manhood in Oregon, being educated there, and when fourteen years old learned the iron-molder's trade in the shops in East Portland. After working at that handicraft for several years, he took up dairying and ranching, following that line of work until he reached the age of twenty-eight. He first came to Klickitat county, Washington, in 1885, but returned after two years to Oregon, and for the several years following was back and forth between the two states, for a time locating on the Sound. He formed a partnership with his brother, James A Bunnell, in the spring of 1896, and the young men leased sheep from A. R. Thompson, a large sheep man of The Dales, Oregon, and ran them in Klickitat county for two years, feeding in the Sunnyside district.

At the expiration of four years, they dissolved partnership, and George went to Yakima County (WA) and took up land near Outlook. He spent some time in the improvement of this property. Thinking that he might do better somewhere else, he took a trip through Mexico, also looking for suitable location in the state of Texas and Arizona, but, not finding a place to his liking, he returned to Washington, and soon after bought a band of six hundred sheep. These he kept on CS Childers' place. A year ago (1903) his present partners bought into the business. Altogether the three men have about one thousand six hundred head of sheep, which they winter in the Sunnyside country.

His brother, James A Bunnell is still engaged in the stock business in Klickitat county, and two other brothers, John F and Charles F., are ranchers in the same county. A sister, Mrs. Rillie A Taylor, resided in Portland, Oregon and another sister, Mrs Manda Goetz, is living in Mexico. Mr Bunnell thinks the state of Washington a better sheep country than Oregon, judging by the parts of Oregon that he has visited, and states that he gets better grass, and the sheep shear more, when fed in this state, and that, outside of the John Day and Grande Ronde districts or Oregon, more sheep are run in Washington. He has property in dark County. In politics, he is a Republican, and an admirer of President Rosevelt.

BComputer Research Information

I have been on the internet a few times searching for ancestors long gone. There is an unbelievable amount of information you can get over the phone wires now, it's hard to get off the darned thing. And with more added daily.

At a FREE class in Family History Center in Salt Lake City last week on "Searching on the Internet" given by Alan Manns, it was stated that the National Archives will have all their Military, Nationalization, Immigration, and Federal Censuses scanned and available over the internet in a few short years. You will be able to copy over the internet actual pages of these documents. It was mentioned that they already have available the pages of the Passengers Lists.....

Mr Manns also mentioned many free and valuable 'sites' for the genealogist. There are actually free researchers who live near libraries and offer assistance out of the kindness of their hearts - everywhere, including other countries! Below are a list of some sites that might be of interest to you. From Salt Lake City, Family History Center, [November 1998

Language (protocal) Name of Computer Sub-directory i

Tells comp.to look on internet Directory Filename

Tips given for research are:

Use the 'Find' and 'Search' function of your web browser to quickly search a web page. i

Keep a research log of where you have been and when.

Read the periodicals produced by Genealogical Societies in your area of interest for new websites

Try the main Internet Service Providers (ISP's) such as American Online, CompuServe, Prodigy, etc., by using the free hours offered. You can then determine if you like their service. Note: Be sure to call or e-mail your cancellation if you don't like it or you will automatically be charged once your free trial is over.

If you need help, look for books to help you learn Internet. For example "Netting Your Ancestors" by Cindy Howells or Genealogy Online for Dummies by Matt and April Helm.

Especially recommended sites are;

Cyndi's List - 90 categories, subject, land, adoption, etc. point to topic and press mouse - you will gain list on the internet. "Libraries, Archives and Museums", "Online Catalogs", "Surnames", "Loyalists"

Fuller & Gaunt - world Gen. list by state, surnames- Two addresses, one to subscribe and one to unsubscribe

Societies; Historical & Genealogical - on Cyndi's lists." Societies & Groups"

Roots Surname List; Type in surname to put name on list (free) Search: to contribute your name, add Name, Place and time of migration - give name & address for contact. Only surnames prior to 1900.

Mike Rice Help List - Free infor searched. Research for free, all over, other countries, arranged by Country or State. Click on email: type in infor and ask for help & send.

Genealogy Periodicals - "See Future of Online Gen." by Mark Howells - Journal of Online Genealogy - only online -1 yr.

National Archives: - Passenger Lists can download actual pages.

Library of Congress; surname list. Index,

Family Tree Maker: has all genealogy pages indexed. 60% of Gen. indexed from Internet. Click on underlined for Information to show. May not be accurate, check all net information for accuracy-

Internet Family Finder: on internet, have "Family Tree Makers" CD's only

Land Records: 13 Original States - look for first one to see when in area. Documents copied on line, very good service.

Homestead and Township & Range - neighbors. (Western States are now working on Land records for internet)

Personal Bookmarks: Chick on Alan Manns email to copy his home page addresses.

Mr Mann said that the internet now has more genealogies than the Joseph Smith Bldg of the LDS Library in Salt Lake City. (I've been there folks, the LDS FHL and JS Bldg. has more infor than I've seen anywhere - and the internet has more...) He also says to use Every Name in your ancestry. The LDS church is working on an Internet Service that may be up next year,

It was a very informative and interesting seminar. If you do go to Salt Lake City, the first day you will get a FREE introduction to the Library and it's holdings. Each day they offer one hour and more FREE classes to learn how to search for your family. The library, in case you don't know, is FREE to use. You need only take change (lots of it) to make copies of what your find in books, films and fiche. The copies of book pages on a copier at this time are 5 cents. The copies of films and fiche are 20 cents each. These films include many county, states and country birth, death, and other vital record indexes and CERTIFICATES, (these are the documents we are paying - in Pierce County $11 to $14 per!)

IRISH FAMILY HISTORY FORUM—Nov/Dec 1997

Canadian professor studies genealogists

Professor Ron Lambert of the Department of Sociology at the University of Waterloo in Waterloo, Ontario has been studying genealogists. In a 1994 study of members of the Ontario Genealogical Society, he tried to find answers to questions such as "Who are Genealogists?", "Why do they do what they do?", and "How do they do it?" And the results of his study were quite interesting.

Out of the 1,348 respondents, representing nearly an 89 percent return on the survey, his study found that 27 percent of the membership were 70 years of age or older, 63 percent were women, and that nearly three-quarters of the members were married at the time of the survey. Over half the respondents gave their ethnic origin as either England, Scotland, Ireland, or Wales, followed by Germany or France.

And if you have ever wanted to know why people engage in the hobby of genealogy, Professor Lambert's study says it is because they have a "desire to know their ancestors as people and to bequeath this knowledge to future generations. They see themselves as a bridge between the generations, and there is little evidence they are in genealogy because of a desire to find an illustrious ancestry or because they are nostalgic for the past."

A list of the top third of material used by researchers to conduct their research showed that they use census records, information from living relatives, obituaries, gravestones, newspaper articles, announcement and advertisement, cemetery transcriptions, church records, government vital records such as birth, marriages and death, old atlases and maps, old photographs, and other genealogists. The bottom three on the list were funeral home records, miscellaneous lists of names, and Social Security Records.

Professor Lambert states that what started as a sampling of members of the Ontario Genealogical Society has grown into a need to know more. Hence, he has a site on the Internet at <http://watsarts.uwaterloo.ca/~rdlamber/genstudy.htm> in which there are now ten more questions he would like answers to. "I continue to conduct interviews with genealogists," he says, "as well as invite responses to questions at my website. I hope to conduct an update and modifications of the 1994 survey in the years 2000-2001. Ron Lambert is currently a professor and Chair of Sociology at the University of Waterloo by day and at night, is a genealogist tracing his ancestry in Scotland and the US. (From Eastside Genealogical Society Newsletter (WA) Jan 1998 Bulletin Board.)
